AMBULANCE FURORE GROWS

DANIEL GILLIS PROTESTS "TAXI SERVICE" MISNOMER

Disturbed by remarks of town officials designating some ambulance calls as "taxi runs", Daniel Gillis of Swain Rd. West appeared before the Selectman Monday evening to file formally a protest with the Board.

Passing mimeographed copies of a memorandum to the Board, he said that it bothered him to find the ambulance was being looked upon in such an "inhuman" manner. He said, that he himself had had occasion to use it when illness arose in his own family, and although he was able to pay for it, no charge was made. However, he continued, many who might need the ambulance would find it a hardship to pay for it.

The current dispute over the use of the ambulance for so-called "taxi runs" opposed to emergency cases, arose as the result of the Finance Committee's delay in appropriating additional funds to pay call firemen who replace the regular men called out on ambulance runs. The original appropriation was depleted some months ago and the men are awaiting payment.

A letter from the Firemen's Association protesting the delay was also received. It brought out the fact that the morale of the men tended to be reduced by the delay.

The text of Mr. Gillis' letter follows:

Attention: Board of Selectmen
October 20, 1958

Subject: Ambulance Taxi Service in Wilmington

Mr. Chairman, I am appearing before you tonight as a private citizen who feels that one of our basic responsibilities to each other is being looked on in a selfish and inhuman manner, namely the Ambulance Service.

First let me give the background of our present Ambulance Service. Twenty four (24) years ago, back in 1934, our then Chief of Police Harry A. Ainsworth in the fulfillment of his duties saw such a great need for an ambulance that he asked for donations from the people of the town and then personally bought an old Lincoln. This ambulance served the needs of the town until 1942. All during this time the Chief periodically had collection cans in the stores and bank for the support of the ambulance. Whenever a person called for the use of it, taxi or emergency, that person could donate for the service or as in a lot of cases could not afford to pay it was forgotten.

The needs of a growing population demanded greater services so that in 1942 the people of the town voted to buy an ambulance and support it out of the town funds. Wilmington in the last few years has been noted in national magazines and newspapers as being one of the most progressive communities in the country, for that reason I ask this question: Do we wish to revert to 1934 in this item most necessary to saving our number one commodity, "A Life"?

Some may answer, no we are only talking about the "taxi service". Eliminating the "taxi service" is like eliminating the false alarm in the Fire Department. The Fire Department answers all calls in the belief that they are all serious or actual, the same applies to sick people. One life saved or one person helped is worth the minute amount on our tax rate.

Also as in the past a high number of cases would not be paid for because the family or person saved would not be able to afford to pay for the service. Also people over 65 who must use a service of this type need every dollar for their necessities of life such as food, clothing etc. The only difference in a charged taxi service would be the making out of a bill to the Welfare Dept. or some other agency in the town which would be more costly because of needed additional billing between departments calling for more personnel and paper work.

In conclusion, I ask that the dollar sign not be put on sick people either rich or poor. Let us as citizens continue to be part of one of the most advanced communities in the country by rendering a service which fulfills one of the basic purposes of government, namely, service to the people.

COMMUNITY FUND WEEK

This is the week of the year when Wilmington residents are asked to help each other by giving to the Community Fund.

Although the committee has been divided in opinion over joining the Greater Lowell group, and members have resigned, it is still our Community Fund. It is still where those who suddenly find themselves in trouble will turn. It still will help support the local scout groups, the Wilmington Junior Camps (Forty Acres), the Dental Clinic, and the newly added organizations to share the benefits, the Little League and the Youth Canteen.

Whether or not one agrees with the policy of standing alone it still falls upon the people of the town to support the Fund, to contribute to it to the best of their ability.

Solicitors will cover the town completely this week, contacting every family. If a change is to be made, it will be accomplished next year. So this year, when someone comes to your door and asks for your contribution, give generously. YOU ARE HELPING YOURSELF.

HEY INDUSTRY! WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

When the news that AVCO had decided to move to Wilmington reached the ears of the people of the town, some felt that too much industry might follow, making what was once a friendly residential town into an industrial community. Their fears evidently were unfounded. Only one small business has located here in the ensuing two years.

The Town Manager has said that the recession which recently plagued the nation has had much to do with the situation. He also says that industry is interested in locating here although he would volunteer no details.

If Wilmington is to have a firm footing and a stable tax rate it must have more industry. It has ideal features for many light manufacturing firms. Location; access to major highways and railroads; attractions for employees, including rural atmosphere, fine schools, good government and convenient recreational facilities; all add up to an attractive picture to present to potential industrial settlers.

Why has so little industry come our way? Is it bad times, -- or has it been scared away?

New England Tel. & Tel. Co. 75 Years Old

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company was 75 years old on Oct. 19.

The Company was granted its corporate charter on Oct. 19, 1883, six and a half years after the telephone's invention. As a consolidation of several earlier companies in Maine, Mass., N. H. and Vt., the Company was the first major operating unit of what was to become the Bell Telephone System.

The 14,400 telephones the Company served at its beginning were thinly spread among several hundred cities and towns in the four states. Several hundred more telephones in the same states were served by other companies, among them the Southern Mass. Telephone Company which was merged with the New England Company in 1912.

Inter-city telephone lines in 1883 were few and relatively short. Long Distance on a vast scale was yet only a vision -- and a vision not without its scoffers. A line between Boston and Providence represented the limits of inter-city calling.

Since 1921 the Company has also operated in Rhode Island, being the successor to the Providence Telephone Co. whose territory had included the Attleboro in Mass. In five states today the Company is serving about 3,025,000 telephones -- Maine, 260,000; Mass., 2,155,000; N. H., 192,000; Rhode Island, 310,000; Vt., 108,000.

It has been during this 75th anniversary year that the Company's telephones in service passed the 3-million mark and that its total investment in telephone plant passed $1 billion. Pointing up the exceptionally rapid growth since World War II are the facts that the three millionth telephone followed the two millionth in only eleven years and that the $1 billion in plant represents a doubling of total investment in about the same period.

The Company's growth and its development of service reflect the demands arising from New England's own growth and development since the 1880's. In the process, the telephone has come to serve practically all places of business and 85 per cent of the households.

New England's telephone progress has paralleled that in the whole country, with the Company sharing in the building up of a nationwide service connecting with all parts of the world. Significant milestones in the lengthening of Long Distance were: Boston to New York, 1884; New York to Chicago, 1892; Coast to Coast, 1915; US to England, 1927; around the world, 1935. Today, 96 per cent of the world's more than 100 million telephones are interconnected, by land and deepsea cables and by land and overseas radio.

Telephone service in the Company's area has grown steadily more useful as the number of telephones have increased and as Long Distance has been extended. Year-by-year improvements in equipment and operating methods have brought the service to today's standards of speed, accuracy, dependability and ease of using. Most of the Company's service -- both local and long distance -- is now dial operated. Most of its 12 million miles of wire lines are in cable. And the variety of equipment for use on customers' premises meets the widely varied needs of telephone users as never before.

If the telephone services of years ago were demonstrated alongside today's service, you would find as marked a contrast as between the modern automobile and its ancestor.

Rotary News

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club was held with president Henry Foster presiding.

After a salute to the flag led by Ralph Swanson, and the invocation offered by Rev. Richard Harding the group sang one verse of America led by John Gleason. After the luncheon, the president called upon Fred D. Cain to introduce the visiting rotarians. After introducing the rotarians he introduced his visitor, Jim Cain.

The birthdays of Dr. Filipek, Al Osterman, Ralph Swanson, and Herbert Pickering were appropriately celebrated. Joe Babbitt spoke on the horse show held last Saturday. He stated it was a success, and thanked everyone who assisted in making it so. John Nitchie spoke on attendance, stating that the club has had 5 consecutive meetings of 100% attendance.

Pres. Foster announced that John Gleason, John Nitchie, Ralph Swanson, and their wives joined him and his wife at the Rotary Conclave at Poland Springs, Maine. It was brought out that the Swansons took home a truck load of prizes, extending their luck from the year before.

Dr. MacDougal introduced the speaker of the day, Harlan Payne Winchester Hospital Administrator since 1948. Mr. Payne spoke of a recent trip he made to Russia. After his very interesting talk on his views of Russia, he showed slides taken while travelling through that country. He stated that they are a very hard working race, going about their duties in a very serious manner. They appeared to be a happy people, as Mr. Paynes explained that conditions under the Czars were so terrible that under the communists they have been given so much more that they naturally appreciate their new type of government. His talk and slides were well received, and the group have a better knowledge of the good and bad side of this country.

To The Editor

It is with deepest gratitude that I express to you and to the members of your staff the deep appreciation of the Priests and People of St. Thomas Parish, Wilmington, for the timely photo and generous space allotted to the Commemorative Obsequies for our late beloved Holy Father.

The archives of this little parish will treasure these accounts and ever be grateful to you.

Sincerely yours,
Rev. Edmund Croke

REGISTER FRED FINNEGAN NEEDS
LITTLE INTRODUCTION TO VOTERS

As a candidate for re-election as Register of Deeds, Attorney Fred J. Finnegan, needs little or no introduction to the thousands whom he has given valuable assistance at one time or another.

Elected to the post in 1952, Attorney Finnegan has quickly gained the applause and favor of the general public, which in November will have the chance to show appreciation for the tireless efforts of the Register.

Wilmington residents will remember Attorney Finnegan's assistance when he spoke to the Wilmington Taxpayer's Association regarding "eminent domain" in the taking of property for Route 28 expansion.

Wilmington will also appreciate his help when he explained to the Wilmington Lions Club the duties of the Register, demonstrating recordings and transfers, in addition to presenting interesting and humorous documents which have been received and recorded over the years.

As a former veteran, Attorney Finnegan has time and time again been sympathetic to the cause of the veteran, assisting many thousands of them in one way or another. He has many times pointed out to a veteran how he can obtain free photostatic copies of discharge papers.

As a member of the Army during World War II, Fred received the Purple Heart and nine battle stars. He was a combat engineer.

He received his education at Keith Academy in Lowell and graduated from the Northeastern University Law School, later becoming a member of the Massachusetts and Federal Bar Associations.

Atty. Finnegan said that his office at the Middlesex Superior Court House is open at all times for the benefit of all people, from the smallest taxpayer to the largest corporation. An efficient staff is on hand to give service to all, he said.

The Register's memberships include American Legion, V.F.W., D.A.V., Order of Purple Heart, B.P.O.E., and the Clover Club.

He was promoted to Asst. Clerk in July, 1921 following his admittance to the practice of law in Oct., 1920. Hughes attended Tufts and Middlebury Colleges and Boston Univ. and Suffolk Law Schools. He received his LL.B. degree in 1920.

Wilmington Council Of Churches To Support 'Share Our Surplus' Program

The Wilmington Council of Churches is planning to "haunt" the Community this Halloween with spooks and goblins who will be collecting contributions for the Share Our Surplus Program of the National Council of Churches.

Share our Surplus is a program through which the United States Government contributes over 300 lbs. of our surplus commodities for each one dollar gift received from Share Our Surplus contributions.

The government is currently spending over one million dollars a day to pay for the storage of these same commodities. The surplus food and goods will be distributed, regardless of race or creed to the starving people of the world who have no buying power whatsoever.

The Wilmington Churches will supply the children of its church schools with SOS tags and containers. They will call on the homes of the community for the gifts of the people, and will not be asking for the customary trick or treat.

Following this effort for Share Our Surplus each church will hold a party for its participating members. The admission to the party will be an SOS container with the contributions collected from the neighborhood.

Stavelly directed the senior choir in the morning anthem: "Holy, Lord of All," and played for the organ prelude, "Morning" by Moe, the Introit on the chimes, "Breathe on Me Breath of God," the Offertory, "Sarabande" by Bach, and for the organ postlude "Andante Moderato," by Mendelssohn.

Fire Prevention Week Opens Jr. Fire Marshall Activities In Schools

Lt. George Cushing of our local fire dept., entered the eight sixth grade rooms last week at the Wildwood and Swain Schools to launch the years "Junior Fire Marshall" activities. Last week was fire prevention week and Lt. Cushing, instructor of the junior fire marshall plan gave a brief talk before each of the classes on fire prevention.

The fire prevention campaign is carried on each year by the students themselves with very little participation on the part of teachers. Each class elects its own marshall who keeps track of the actions of his fellow "firemen" and tallies the number of "fire prevention slips" turned in by each. After turning in five slips a boy or girl is entitled to an inspector's badge and at the end of the year, those having turned in the most slips are duly elected to positions on the junior fire dept.

During the coming school year, Lt. Cushing will visit the classrooms from time to time to check with the various marshalls on the progress of their classes and to spur the interest of the youngsters toward more vigorous fire prevention programs within their own homes.

CANTEEN CALLING

Mr. & Mrs. Neal O'Brien, Mrs. George Bright, and Mrs. John Cosman were chaperones for Friday nite at the Canteen. Many thanks to them. The attendance was a little less than the usual 100.

Don't forget if you have a membership card or 25¢ and don't know where to go, come in and enjoy yourself. If you give us enough support each week, maybe soon we'll have a bigger and better recreation hall. Think it over!!

I see a certain redhead still likes leather jackets. Also a certain boy has his eyes glued on C.G. It could easily turn out to be love at first sight.

With all this "puppy love" I happen to notice no one goes hungry. We sure sell the tonic and potato chips.

The car wash Saturday morning was not as successful as expected, as not many people came. We had hoped for more business, but maybe again they had their cars washed before.

Saturday nite chaperones were Mr. & Mrs. Winston Fairfield, and Mr. & Mrs. Wallace Phillips. Thanks to them also. Not as many canteeners showed up as expected; maybe they were tired after the football game.

We'll sure be glad when Jean Gifford, our adult advisor is with us again.

Records will be given to selected people at our Don Clark record hop. Don't forget Nov. 10, Armistice Eve!! Watch for our new list of the Junior Planning Board, Officers and Bond.

All friends of the Wilmington Teeners Attention!! Have you volunteered to chaperon yet?

FROTTON AND CORSETTE SENTENCED

At Superior Court in Cambridge on Wednesday, Oct. 15, Burton Frotton of this town and Robert Corsette of Somerville were sentenced to indefinite terms at the Concord Reformatory. Frotton and Corsette were sentenced for charges of break and entry and escape.

During their few hours of freedom, attempted breaks were made at the Wilmington Coal and Oil Co. and at the Wilmington Builder's Supply Co. Both attempts failed to yield results and the pair was later taken into custody by Sgt. George Shepard and Officer Charles Ellsworth.

At Superior Court last Wednesday the pair was sentenced, Sgt. Shepherd and Officer Ellsworth prosecuted.

WILMINGTON TOWN DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE MEETS

by Fay Cantrell

Here is example number one expounding the principle of Democracy in Action outlined last week.

What is good for the People (news) is good for Industry (pulp, ink, industrial machinery) and Management (publishers, printers, newsboys). This is the Democratic way and is accomplished by the involvement of all concerned — by competitive papers of American cities and towns, and by the purchasing public.

Reporting on different facets of a civic or social nature is what keeps papers selling. Competition keeps the presses rolling. That's the Democrat principle in action. All participate in it, consciously or unconsciously, as it must have the total co-operation of all (purchasing readers, management and industry) to survive.

If the opposite method were used, as in the Republican way of life, then it should follow that whatever is good for Industry (production) and Management (financial magnates) should be good for the people — even if it means feeding the people rubbish as a necessary means of procuring the result of keeping the presses running. That system is used by publishing houses which produce literature not worthy of the ink, but which sells the best for entertainment (?) purposes.

Even a well-intended course sometimes leads to a veering at the end. And it's the people who are at the end in the Republican ideology.

So, go to the polls at the proper time to standardize your preference. The tax dollar buys that right to choose and those who don't vote are paying for something they didn't buy, but are obligated for and being used by others.

Politics is touched upon at this time to enable the Wilmingtonite to choose his party preference as a choice must be made on Nov. 4.

Also, of course, political reporting sells more papers. We, in this way, demonstrate the Democratic principle by enabling all newsmen, regardless of party to share in the benefit of keeping their presses rolling and the industry producing.

See, what is good for the People (information) is good for Management and Industry. That's the Democratic way. Vote Democrat!

End Of Lesson

Something in a lighter vein:

Guess it's this "equal rights" business that influenced Hank Filippone last Friday evening at the Lions' dance. He was tripping the light fantastic with his missus, sans shoes. See what you started, girls?

Wish Mary Cunningham would get off the St. Dorothy's bazaar. Then we could have her work for us night and day. We like our WTDC members to really give their all.

Ed McLaughlin's daughter, Honey, sure has a honey of an engagement ring. Sorry, boys, Raymond St. Pierre of Sugus is the lucky fella. By the way, Kay, I've got something you're looking for.

I bet Jim McLaughlin, of Jim's Variety Store, would clinch the vote as being Wilmington's Dapper Dan. A real smooth dresser and good to see, that Beau Brummell. Maybe it's because he gets those uniform blues, huh, Jim?

Mary, sorry you couldn't make it to Mrs. Lovering's cocktail party Saturday evening given for Joseph Ray Crimmins' supporters. I'd say those sodas I had were really good. (Not to mention the delicious canapés, sandwiches, and coffee).

M. Haskell, if you want me to buy that lovely Garrison, you had better talk to the Division of Right of Way, for me. I'm keeping out of that eminent domain business completely. It's like talking to the TV set — only one way reception.

The chairman of the WTDC called a special meeting on Monday evening, Oct. 20, at the home of our lovely, official hostesses, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelley. The chairman of Registration and Voting, Ted Cantrell, received commitments from members as to the availability of their services. Are you with us Red?

Don't hound us, Ted: we'll work. Honest. But isn't it going a little too far when you put your babysitter to work typing those cards, too? Boy, what nerve. Glad I'm not related to you.

Blitz Party Tuesday

Members of St. Dorothy's parish cordially invite the public to their Blitz Party which will be held at the hall on Main St., on Tuesday evening beginning at 8:15. Many worthwhile prizes will be awarded the lucky winners.

Following the games, refreshments will be served. Donation for an entire evening's entertainment will be 50c.

Manning the refreshment stand at the Wilmington-Dracur game Saturday were members of the Booster's Club, who run the concession for the benefit of the club.

30,000 INDUSTRIAL JOBS LOST IN MASSACHUSETTS

WILL YOURS BE NEXT?

Industry — the most vital, the most important source of jobs in Massachusetts — is leaving the state in growing numbers.

And the situation is becoming so acute that your job could very well be the next one affected.

How extensive is the loss?

There has been a net loss of 30,000* manufacturing jobs in Massachusetts between 1947 and 1958. The frightening part is that 21,703 of these jobs have been lost since January 1, 1957 alone. In terms of payrolls, here is a loss of more than $119,250,000 every year.

These lost jobs, remember, are not just temporary layoffs, or seasonal losses. They no longer exist in Massachusetts because of the many companies which have closed their doors permanently or have moved to another state.

Why?

Because our State Legislature, over the objections of the more far-sighted members, has continued to pass laws which make it more costly and burdensome to operate a manufacturing plant in Massachusetts than in any other state.

Consider this:

Massachusetts imposes higher taxes on corporations than any other state.

Massachusetts takes more than twice as much of its state income from taxes on business as the average taken by all other states.

Massachusetts has run up the highest state debt in the nation — $733,000,000; which, by the way, is 13 times more than it was just 12 years ago.

Is it any wonder that so many businesses are forced to close; that so many others are moving away?

Specifically, what can you do about it?

When you vote in the coming election next month, make certain that you vote for candidates who will put an end to this massacre of jobs in Massachusetts. Make certain you vote for men who know industry's problems and will insist on laws that will make it possible for industry in this state to compete with the rest of the nation. Make certain you vote for men who are going to help YOUR employer keep YOUR job in Massachusetts.

It's already too late for 30,000 jobs.

THE LADY WITH THE BASKET

Mrs. Marion Woller, the Lady with the Basket, as she appears to Wilmington's newcomers.

It happens quite often that Mrs. Marion Woller is the first person to call on a family newly located in Wilmington. The smiling lady with her basket of gifts and information has more than once sat on a packing box while she chatted with a new homemaker. Only once in calling upon a neighbor as the local representative of Welcome Wagon has she been asked to come back and that time because the recipient of the call was too busy with a carpenter to see anybody.

Mrs. Woller is Wilmington's first Welcome Wagon hostess. She was approached by civic leaders and asked to consider adding Welcome Wagon to the town five years ago. A two weeks training course in New York was followed by calls to most of Wilmington's businessmen to gather a group of sponsors for the project.

The CRUSADER is one of the sponsors of Welcome Wagon here. Among the other businesses who are introduced in this friendly way are the Sunnyhurst Dairy, Reading Co-operative Bank, Mechanics Savings Bank, Gildart's Chevrolet, Pollard's Department Store, Steven's Supermarket and Louie's Oil Co.

Also included is information about all local churches, town services, organizations and upcoming fund drives. The hostess also must know what is available, and where, for newcomers are often from far away and total strangers to this section of the country.

Mrs. Woller is well equipped to supply this information having been active in community projects long before taking over her present duties. She has been general chairman of the Salvation Army Drive, a 4-H and Cub Scout leader, one of the originators of the original Wilmington Boosters Club and solicitor for many local drives.

Serving as assistant hostess at the present is Mrs. Maxine Masse of Carter Lane, who shares the monthly visits with Mrs. Woller. Beside newcomer calls, they make new baby calls when contacted.

Once Mrs. Woller called on a family who spoke no English. Fortunately a visitor was present who could interpret and the whole affair turned out so well Mrs. Woller was invited to dinner!

Some of the recent calls made by the two hostesses follow. Mr. and Mrs. William Eckberg of 249 Lowell St., and their two children moved here recently from Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kalinen have moved from Fitchburg with their child to 9 Sudbury St.

New-type concrete brings you tomorrow's highways today!

The "feel of the road" is good and solid
... new-type concrete gives you the smoothest ride ever!

No annoying dips—no bothersome bumps! The very nature of concrete permits it to be laid truly level, according to precise engineering standards—not just pounded into shape.

New-type concrete gives a smooth ride for an expected life of 50 years and more. There are two good reasons for this: The durable concrete itself supported by a specially designed subbase gives even greater load strength; and a new process called "air entrainment" prevents surface roughening from winter weather and de-icers.

Yet first cost is moderate, upkeep expense is low. Good reasons why concrete is preferred for the Interstate System and other important roads.

New Interstate Highways are for U.S. defense, too

That's why concrete is vital. It's the only pavement that can be engineered to heavy loads, never loses strength. This assures mobility and freely flowing supply lines for military emergencies.

"Religious Weakness The Racketeers' Wedge" Sermon Theme At Wilmington Methodist Church, Sunday, October 26

On Sunday, Oct. 26 at 10:30 a.m. the Rev. Richard E. Harding will preach on the theme "Religious Weakness The Racketeers' Wedge." His message will deal with the referendum articles to be voted upon in the commonwealth during the Nov. election. These articles include, Alcoholic Beverages, Pari-mutuel Betting, and in some communities the proposed state lottery. Mr. Harding feels that the strong impact the racketeer is making upon our commonwealth is due in part to an insensitive religious community, and the unwillingness or inability of religious groups to communicate the facts to the general public. He has stated on many occasions that, "The racketeer is no longer amongst us as the unshaven, ill dressed hoodlum looking individual, but is in our midst as "Mr. respectable citizen." Often times a community leader, a benevolent sort of soul, who is known only by the law enforcement agencies, and a few other citizens whose mission in life it is to protect him or them."

Mr. Harding feels that the time has come when the citizens of the commonwealth must have the hood-winks removed that they may deal with the issues before them with clear and informed minds.

Discussion Clubs To Be Resumed At St. Thomas'

Next Sunday from 7 to 8 p.m. will begin a ten weeks course of lectures, "An Exposition of Catholic Truths" for interested Catholics and non-Catholics. The first subject will be "Where Are We Going?" and will include creation, the fall and redemption.

On the following Sunday, November 2, the discussion clubs will be resumed.
